

St Agnes and Gugh Bingo

Manx shearwater burrows. There are five locations on St Agnes and Gugh where Manx shearwaters nest in burrows. They dig them out to lay and incubate their single egg.

Lesser black-backed gulls. Gugh supports a large nesting colony. They forage for fish naturally at sea and migrate as far as Africa in winter.

An orange hat. The team wear them to access private land to carry out monitoring checks and seabird surveys and to show passers-by they have permission.

A 'Rat on a Rat' logo! We need YOUR help to keep St Agnes and Gugh and the uninhabited islands rat-free.

A Lighthouse. From here you could see the lighthouses on St Agnes, St Marys and the Bishop Rock – are there any more?

Signs of wildlife. Signs can be anywhere, but how is the team monitoring for signs of shrews or potentially rats if they were to return?
